Terri Beiner
Professor Terri Beiner was interviewed for The United States Law Week for the article “Arkansas Total Ban on Adoption, Foster Care By Unmarried Cohabitants Is Unconstitutional.” The article was published in the April 19 edition of the newsletter.

Frances Fendler
Professor Frances Fendler recently released Private Placements and Limited Offerings of Securities: A Guide for the Arkansas Practitioner. The book was published by the Arkansas Bar Association. The book, which is specially written for Arkansas attorneys, is available at Lulu.com.

Ken Gallant
Professor Ken Gallant was interviewed for the story “Case off for now, Dunn is released: But murder count can be refiled,” published April 6 in the Arkansas Democrat Gazette.

Gene Mullins
Professor Emeritus Gene Mullins was one of the program planners for the third annual Practical Animal Law Continuing Legal Education program held April 8 at the law school. He also made an hour-long presentation on legal ethics. Other participating faculty members were Professor Michael Flannery and Professor Kelly Browe Olson.

Ranko Oliver
April 13, Professor Ranko Shiraki Oliver helped coordinate the Disability Awareness Program at Bowen. The program had as one of its goals to promote social interaction between those who have and do not have disabilities and to discuss accommodations provided to students with disabilities under federal law.

Oliver also participated April 19 in a community-outreach program in Rogers. She presented in Spanish on the topics of the Fair Housing Act of 1968, the Fair Housing Act Amendments of 1988, and the Arkansas Fair Housing Act regarding housing rights and responsibilities to the Latino community in that city.

Oliver also volunteered at the Little Rock site of a nationwide program sponsored by the American Immigration Lawyers Association called “AILA Citizenship Day, Ya Es Hora . . . CIUDADANIA!” Participants assisted the immigrant community to fill out Form N-400, the long and complex form foreign nationals fill out when they apply to become U.S. citizens through naturalization.
