Dean Casey shared that the new electronic application process has been tweaked now sending automated reply emails to applicants once required elements are received. These automated emails are also copied to program coordinators so they can monitor the process more closely. With the new process in place, the Graduate School is currently averaging about 30 applications on a daily basis. Graduation Checkout also is in the process of being automated.

Members of the Graduate Dean Search Committee shared that finalists have been selected and that schedules for the campus interview were being developed for April interviews.

Dr. Berleant presented final edits for the revised Graduate Faculty Status application. The revised Graduate Faculty Status application will be available soon as a downloadable pdf file that can be completed online with an electronic signature, or completed online and printed providing original signatures.

Respectfully submitted,
