

Core Curriculum Course Submission
Criteria: Social Science

1. General Information

a. Originating Person	b. Contact Person's E-mail	c. Contact Phone	d. Date
Joseph D. Giammo	jdgiammo@ualr.edu	569-3331
e. College/School	f. Department/Program
College of Social Sciences Communication	School of Public Affairs

Submission Statement

By submitting this form, we acknowledge our understanding that the Core Council has the authority to review approved courses to ensure they continue to meet the established goals and outcomes of that category of the core; that the Council has authority to develop a core assessment program; and that the Council will be developing review and assessment policies by the end of 2014. Further, we agree that if this course is approved, we will participate in the university-wide assessment of the core.

Chair and Dean Awareness

A separate statement from the chair must be included that states that the department faculty have approved this course for submission to the core and that the chair takes responsibility for informing the Dean about the submission of the course.

2. Course Information

a. Course ID	b. Current Title
POLS 2303	Introduction to International Politics

c. Catalog Description

Introduction to the Political Science subfields of Comparative Politics and International Relations. Analysis of the variety of different types of political structures that exist around the world and how they shape the behavior of individuals and groups. Examination of the interaction of various actors on the international stage, such as states, multinational organizations, activists, and transnational terrorist groups. Introduction to the study of these phenomena as a social science, the major theoretical and empirical approaches in both subfields, and enduring questions of domestic and international

d. How will your department ensure a level of consistency among sections of this course? Who will be responsible for this?

The Director will share information about the core criteria for this course with all faculty teaching it and review syllabi and textbook selections for all sections to ensure consistency. Additionally, all faculty (including adjunct instructors) participate in a peer review process within the program.

Educational Goals	Learning Outcomes students will	Learning Objectives: At the end of the course students will be able to	Assignments	Explanation
Knowledge 1 – Concepts, methodologies, findings, and applications of mathematics and the social and natural sciences, engineering and technology.	1. develop foundational knowledge of the theoretical perspectives used in one or more social science disciplines;	Learning Objectives 1.1 analyze international political issues using multiple foundational theoretical perspectives from political science.	Assignments 1.1 This learning objective will be met through reading assignments, class lectures, and class discussions of political issues and theoretical perspectives and will be assessed through exams, essays, and/or other assignments	Explanation 1.1 Faculty members will assign students to read about and critically analyze political issues using multiple theoretical perspectives from political science. Students will write about what they have learned through exams and/or other written assignments.
	2. develop foundational knowledge of how to use scientific methods and various analytic techniques to answer questions about societal issues;	Learning Objectives 1.2 discuss how to appropriately apply the scientific method to answer political questions.	Assignments 1.2 This learning objective will be met through reading assignments, class lectures, and class discussions of the scientific method and examples of its application to political questions. Students will be assessed through exams, essays, and/or other written assignments.	Explanation 1.2 Faculty members will assign readings and lead class discussions about the scientific method and how it can be used to answer political questions. Students will be required to demonstrate their knowledge of the material through exams, essays, and/or other written assignments.
	3. develop foundational knowledge of real world applications of the social sciences;	Learning Objectives 1.3 apply the knowledge that they gain to better understand political issues and evaluate potential solutions to political problems.	Assignments 1.3 This learning objective will be met through reading assignments, class lectures, and class discussions of real world political problems and potential solutions to them. Students will be assessed through exams, essays, and/or other written	Explanation 1.3 Faculty members will assign readings and lead class discussions about real world political problems and potential solutions to them. Students will be required to demonstrate their knowledge of the material through exams, essays, assignments.	and/or other written assignments.

--	--	---------------------	------------------------------------------

Educational Goals	Learning Outcomes students will	Learning Objectives: At the end of the course students will be able to	Assignments	Explanation
Skills 1 – Communication	1. develop oral and/or written skills while communicating about social science theories, methods, and applications;	Learning Objectives 1.1 discuss political science theories, methods, and applications in language that can be differentiated from partisan or ideological political analysis orally and/or in writing.	Assignments 1.1 This learning objective will be met through class discussions, oral presentations, and/or written assignments about current events and/or other issues in comparative politics and international relations. Students will be required to write or speak about such issues and will receive feedback from faculty on their communication skills.	Explanation 1.1 Faculty members will lead student discussions and/or assign students to complete oral presentations. Students will be required to write about a variety of issues related to political science. In all cases, faculty will provide feedback to students on their communication skills.
Educational Goals	Learning Outcomes students will	Learning Objectives: At the end of the course students will be able to	Assignments	Explanation
Skills 2 – Critical Thinking, Quantitative Reasoning, and Solving Problems Individually and Collaboratively	1. develop an understanding of how evidence from different methods of inquiry supports or weakens various theoretical perspectives;	Learning Objectives 2.1 describe how evidence from different methods of inquiry used in political science supports or weakens various theoretical perspectives.	Assignments 2.1 This learning objective will be met through class discussions, oral presentations, and/or written assignments about the course materials, including evaluating different methods of political inquiry. Students will be required to discuss the merits of various methods of inquiry and their relationships with the theoretical perspectives in political science in class discussions and through exams and/or other written	Explanation 2.1 Faculty members will lead discussions and present lectures on different methods of inquiry, their relationships with various theoretical perspectives in political science, and how to evaluate evidence. Students will be required to demonstrate their understanding of these topics through discussion, essays, exams, and/or other assignments. assignments.

	2. develop an awareness of contextual impacts and personal assumptions on inquiry, methods, and analysis within a social science discipline;	Learning Objectives 2.2 analyze how context and personal assumptions impact inquiry, methods, and analysis in political science.	Assignments 2.2 This learning objective will be met through class discussions and written assignments about the context of political problems and the impact of personal assumptions. Students will be required to discuss how context and personal assumptions influence inquiry, methods, and analysis when addressing issues in political science in class discussions and through exams and/or other written assignments.	Explanation 2.2 Faculty members will lead discussions and present lectures on how context and personal assumptions influence inquiry, methods, and analysis when addressing issues in political science. Students will be required to demonstrate their understanding of these concepts and their applications through discussions, essays, exams, and/or other assignments.

Educational Goals	Learning Outcomes students will	Learning Objectives: At the end of the course students will be able to	Assignments	Explanation
Skills 3 - Information Technology	1. develop abilities to use current technologies for inquiry, exploration, and communication;	Learning Objectives 3.1 use library databases and other appropriate technologies to find relevant source materials, including scholarly articles, government reports, and international news sources.	Assignments 3.1 This learning objective will be met through assignments such as essays, research papers, and oral presentations.	Explanation 3.1 These types of assignments will require students to gather appropriate supporting materials using current technologies relevant in the field.
Educational Goals	Learning Outcomes students will	Learning Objectives: At the end of the course students will be able to	Assignments	Explanation
Values 1 - Personal Responsibility and Ethical Behavior	1. develop commitment to academic integrity and take responsibility for completing assignments in an ethical manner, working on one's own when required and acknowledging resources when used;	Learning Objectives 1.1 appropriately cite materials and adhere to the UA Little Rock Code of Student Conduct.	Assignments 1.1 This learning objective will be met through exams, essays, research papers, or other written and/or oral assignments.	Explanation 1.1 Students will be expected to do all of their own work in the course and to provide proper citations for all sources used in written and/or oral assignments.
	2. develop an understanding of the ethical obligation to be precise and accurate with data; and understand how this obligation applies to communication of information;	Learning Objectives 1.2 understand the ethical obligation to be precise and accurate with data in conducting political research. Students will understand the consequences of political science research and the ways in which research is and can be used to shape public policy.	Assignments 1.2 This learning objective will be met through exams, essays, research papers, or other written and/or oral assignments.	Explanation 1.2 Faculty members will lead discussion and present lectures on the importance of being precise and accurate with data, the impact of failing to do so, and the importance of responsibly communicating findings. Students will be required to demonstrate their understanding of these concepts and their application through discussions, essays, exams, and/or other assignments.

	3 understand the ethics of research with humans;	Learning Objectives-1.3 understand the importance of ethically conducting experiments, surveys, interviews, and other types political science research on human subjects.	Assignments-1.3 This learning objective will be met through exams, essays, research papers, or other written and/or oral assignments. Students will be required to demonstrate an understanding of the importance of ethical research on human subjects in class discussions and through exams and/or other written assignments.	Explanation- 1.3 Faculty members will lead discussions and present lectures on the importance of conducting research on human subjects ethically. Students will be required to demonstrate their understanding of this topic through discussion, essays, exams, and/or other assignments.
Educational Goals	Learning Outcomes students will	Learning Objectives: At the end of the course students will be able to	Assignments	Explanation
Values 2 - Civic Responsibility	1. develop an understanding of the ethical implications of social science research, methods, knowledge in addressing social issues;	Learning Objectives 2.1 discuss the ethical implications of political science research, methods, and knowledge in addressing political issues.	Assignments 2.1 This learning objective will be met through reading assignments, class lectures, and class discussions of past and current political science research and its implications for addressing political and social issues. Student understanding will be assessed through class discussion, exams, essays, and/or other assignments.	Explanation 2.1 Faculty will lead class discussions and present lectures on the ethical implications of political science research, including its impact on and application to past and current political and social problems. Student understanding will be assessed through class discussions, exams, essays, and/or other assignments.
Educational Goals	Learning Outcomes students will	Learning Objectives: At the end of the course students will be able to	Assignments	Explanation
Value 3-Global	1. develop awareness of	Learning Objectives 3.1	Assignments 3.1	Explanation 3.1

and cultural Understanding	multiple cultures and respect for alternate world views.	describe diverse political systems (e.g. presidential vs. parliamentary systems) and the political cultures that influence the ways in which these systems are designed.	This learning outcome will be met through reading assignments, class lectures, and class discussions of how political systems and politics differ across cultures. Problems will be discussed and analyzed from multiple world views. Student understanding will be assessed through class discussions, exams, essays, and/or other assignments.	Faculty will lead class discussions and present lectures on the impact of culture and world view on political systems, politics, and answers to important political questions. Student understanding will be assessed through class discussions, exams, essays, and/or other assignments.
-----------------------------------	----------------------------------------------------------	--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

Additional Comments:

Belinda Blum-Krall
Approved by Core Curriculum Committee

4-27-17
Date

D. Baldoni
Approved by Provost

4/25/17
Date

A. Coym
Approved by Chancellor

4/25/2017
Date