

EMPLOYEE GRIEVANCE FORM
Classified and Non-Classified (Non-Faculty)

An employee may file a grievance or enter into the dispute resolution process on matters associated with the employee's employment relationship with the University. The Grievance Policy applies to regular, benefits eligible classified and non-classified (non-faculty) employees. Open communication is encouraged between employees and members of management within their department. All parties involved should make efforts to reach a resolution prior to proceeding to the Grievance Review Board. For a complete description of the UALR Grievance Policy and Procedure, including a progressive timeline, visit the UALR Human Resources webpage. For further information or assistance with the policy and procedures, contact the Department of Human Resources at (501) 569-3180.

REQUIRED SIGNATURES

The UALR Grievance Policy requires that you make every attempt to resolve your concern within your chain of command prior to proceeding to the Grievance Review Board. Please follow the steps as outlined below.

Step I: Meet with your supervisor to discuss your concern. If resolution is not met, both parties must sign and date this form and proceed to Step II.

Step II: Meet with the next level supervisor within your chain of command to attempt to resolve your concern. If resolution is not met, both parties must sign and date this form and proceed to Step III.

Step III: Request an appeal through the Grievance Review Board. Submit your completed form and supporting documents to Human Resources. The Employee Relations Manager, or designee, will review the grievance to ensure it is in accordance with UALR policy and if so, forwards it to the Grievance Review Board. Additional conflict resolution attempts may also be provided. Upon review, the Grievance Review Board will make a recommendation to the Chancellor, or designee. The Chancellor's decision is the final stage of the grievance process.
