What is UA Little Rock Online?
UA Little Rock’s Online Campus offers affordable, flexible, and accessible degree and certificate programs – 100% online or at a distance. These accredited programs are taught by the same award-winning faculty who teach on campus, so you won’t be sacrificing quality for convenience. As an Online Campus student, you are also eligible for reduced, standard rate tuition – no additional fees – which includes full access to our academic resources on campus and online.

Benefits of Online
Reduced rates
Students who complete their degree entirely online through UA Little Rock Online receive reduced standard rates.

Flexible schedule and location
Traditional courses require students to attend class at a set time and place each week. However, most online courses offered through UA Little Rock Online allow you to complete your coursework on your own schedule (within timeframes specified by your instructors) and anywhere you can access a stable Internet connection. Read more about system requirements and more at ualr.edu/blackboard.

Accessible resources
UA Little Rock Online students have full access to UA Little Rock’s academic resources, such as the Ottenheimer Library and Blackboard Student Support, but they do not pay for access to non-academic resources, such as Health Services and the Donaghey Fitness Center.

FAQs and Policies
How do I take online courses?
Online courses are offered through the Blackboard learning management system. UA Little Rock Online students register for online course sections starting with “9U”. For more information about registering for courses, see pages 8-9. On the first day of class, students can access their courses by visiting blackboard. ualr.edu, signing in with their NetID and password (see page 4), and viewing “My Courses” under the myBlackboard tab.

What is the difference between synchronous and asynchronous courses?
Synchronous online courses require students to participate in lectures and class activities virtually at a scheduled time. Asynchronous online courses allow students to complete coursework on their own time, within a timeframe specified by the instructor. Your advisor will typically know how online courses within your program are structured. It’s also important to communicate with your instructors frequently and always check your syllabi to be clear on the expectations for your courses.

If I’m not in an “online program” but take only online courses, do I still get the reduced rate?
The reduced, standard rate applies to fully online programs offered through the Online Campus, not individual online courses. Students must be declared in a UA Little Rock Online program to qualify for this reduced rate. Students who take online courses via the Main Campus will be assessed regular tuition and fees, plus a distance education technology fee.

Am I allowed to come to campus if I want to? Will I ever be required to come to campus?
Students participating in UA Little Rock Online take all their coursework online, and there is no requirement to come to the physical campus for any reason for most programs (please check individual program requirements for any exceptions). However, online students are welcome to visit our physical campus if they want to meet with professors, advisors, or classmates; utilize academic resources in person; get a student ID card; or participate in their commencement ceremony. UA Little Rock Online students do not have access to non-academic services on campus, such as the Donaghey Fitness Center, Health Services, or Counseling Services. (Please note: Counseling Services will still provide external resources for students seeking help.) You can learn more about these resources in your Online Campus Student Orientation in Blackboard and at ualr.edu/online.

What if I want to take some face-to-face classes one semester? What if I decide I want to change my campus and/or program?
Only the program coordinator, advisor, or authorized personnel within the academic department can request a campus change and declare the student’s degree program in BOSS. Students must email a request to change their campus and/or major to their advisor for this change to occur. To change majors, email the advisor of the new major of interest.

Please note: Students may switch their campus only once within a calendar year. If you’re changing campus to temporarily take face-to-face courses, please keep in mind that you’ll be assessed Main Campus tuition and fees for all courses during this time. You will need to submit another request after a year to rejoin the Online Campus.
Welcome!
We’re glad you’re here! Advising 101 starts you on your academic journey, including how to identify: campus academic resources, credit hours, student classifications, degrees, required core general education courses, areas of study (your major), and how to register for classes.

Who is My Academic Advisor?
You have been assigned an Academic Advisor, which is a professional staff or faculty member designated to serve as an academic resource. Your Advisor guides your path toward graduation, helps you stay on track academically, provides opportunities within your major, and ensures you meet all requirements for graduation. Please speak with your Academic Advisor should you have questions or concerns. See page 4 for instructions to identify your Academic Advisor.

Undergraduate Catalog
The catalog outlines all school academic policies, degree options, degree requirements, course descriptions, the academic calendar, and other information regarding UA Little Rock student services.

ualr.edu/catalogs/undergraduate-catalog

Degree Types
Associate degree: awarded for an undergraduate major generally lasting for two years of full-time study or at least 60 credit hours.

Bachelor’s degree: awarded for an undergraduate major generally lasting for four years of full-time study or at least 120 credit hours. This is the standard degree students will receive when graduating from college.

Certificate: not a degree, but a program of coursework in a specialty area that typically can be completed faster than a degree.

Understanding Your Bachelor’s Degree
Your undergraduate bachelor’s degree is earned upon successful completion of college credits in the following areas:

- General Core: 35 hrs
- University Core: 18 hrs minimum
- College Core: 0.5 hrs (if required)
- Minor: 18 hrs minimum (if required)
- Electives: Classes for total required hours
- Language: 0-9 hrs
- Major: 30 hrs minimum
- Prerequisite Courses:
- Major Courses:
- Major Electives:

Students must have 45 upper-level hours (3000-4000 level) and 30 hours at UA Little Rock to graduate. Students may be required to take college preparatory classes. Grades in these classes are not included in GPA calculations, and the hours do not count toward the minimum 120 hours to graduate.

How To Graduate in Four Years
It typically takes four years of college-level coursework to graduate with a bachelor’s degree. Because a bachelor’s degree usually contains 120 credit hours, we recommend you take 15 hours each fall and spring semester or take 12 hours each fall and spring semester and 6 hours during the summer!

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) (20 U.S.C. § 1232g; 34 CFR Part 99) is a Federal law that protects the privacy of student education records. The law applies to all schools that receive funds under an applicable program of the U.S. Department of Education.

FERPA gives parents certain rights with respect to their children's education records. These rights transfer to the student when he or she reaches the age of 18 or attends a school beyond the high school level. Students to whom the rights have transferred are "eligible students."

- Parents or eligible students have the right to inspect and review the student's education records maintained by the school. Schools are not required to provide copies of records unless, for reasons such as great distance, it is impossible for parents or eligible students to review the records. Schools may charge a fee for copies.

- Parents or eligible students have the right to request that a school correct records which they believe to be inaccurate or misleading. If the school decides not to amend the record, the parent or eligible student then has the right to a formal hearing. After the hearing, if the school still decides not to amend the record, the parent or eligible student has the right to place a statement with the record setting forth his or her view about the contested information.

Generally, schools must have written permission from the parent or eligible student in order to release any information from a student's education record. However, FERPA allows schools to disclose, without consent, "directory" information such as a student's name, address, telephone number, date and place of birth, honors and awards, and dates of attendance. However, schools must tell parents and eligible students about directory information and allow parents and eligible students a reasonable amount of time to request that the school not disclose directory information about them. Schools must notify parents and eligible students annually of their rights under FERPA. The actual means of notification (special letter, inclusion in a PTA bulletin, student handbook, or newspaper article) is left to the discretion of each school.

School officials with legitimate educational interest;
- Other schools to which a student is transferring;
- Specified officials for audit or evaluation purposes;
- Appropriate parties in connection with financial aid to a student;
- Organizations conducting certain studies for or on behalf of the school;
- Accrediting organizations;
- To comply with a judicial order or lawfully issued subpoena;
- Appropriate officials in cases of health and safety emergencies; and
- State and local authorities, within a juvenile justice system, pursuant to specific State law.

Schools may disclose, without consent, “directory” information such as a student’s name, address, telephone number, date and place of birth, honors and awards, and dates of attendance. However, schools must tell parents and eligible students about directory information and allow parents and eligible students a reasonable amount of time to request that the school not disclose directory information about them. Schools must notify parents and eligible students annually of their rights under FERPA. The actual means of notification (special letter, inclusion in a PTA bulletin, student handbook, or newspaper article) is left to the discretion of each school.

Make sure you know and understand the following:

Your Credit Hour Requirements for Scholarships: Most scholarships require you to be enrolled in mandated credit hours at the beginning of the school year, even though some classes don’t start until later in the semester.

What It Means To Be In Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP): You must complete 67% of the classes you attempt and you must maintain a 2.0 Grade Point Average to keep your Financial Aid. A Bachelor’s degree is usually 120 credit hours. You will only have 180 hours of Financial Aid, which is 60 hours more, but very little room for errors. For more information, please visit ualr.edu/financialaid and review the terms and conditions for your academic year.

My College Money

The tips below will help you to manage your college money, ensure you meet your financial obligations, and assist you to remain financially successful at UA Little Rock.

Meet the Office that Can Help Guide You Financially:
- The Bursar's Office is here to help guide you through your financial obligations. Bursar by definition: an officer (as of a college) in charge of funds. The Bursar's Office at UA Little Rock has two divisions, Student Accounts and the Cashier's Office.

Student Accounts:
- Student Billing Plans
- Third-Party Sponsorships (EX: AR Rehab)
- Tuition Discounts
- Collection Processes

Cashier’s Office:
- Initiate Installment Payment
- Take Payments and Provide Change

How to Budget for Success:
- Having a plan is key to meeting your financial obligation. To help budget for a semester/year you can use the Tuition & Fee Estimator to give you a good estimate on how much course(s) will cost. (ualr.edu/bursar/home/tuitionandfees)
- Online Campus students pay a reduced, standard tuition rate with no additional fees beyond the application fee, making it easier to estimate the cost of courses. To see current rates for Online Campus programs, please visit ualr.edu/online/what-it-costs.

What It Means Financially To Register For A Class:
- When you register for a class, you become financially obligated to pay for the class. If you decide to drop a class (remove it from your schedule) or withdraw from the semester completely, make sure you adhere to the refund schedule set by the Bursar's Office. (ualr.edu/bursar/refunds). To drop a class, see “Drop/Withdrawal from Class” (ualr.edu/records/get-registered)

Your Bill Delivery:
- You will receive an email letting you know that a statement is ready to view in your Student Account. All emails will be sent to your UA Little Rock email address. Once in your student account, you can view your current and any past statement. OPEN YOUR BILL even if you think you know what your balance is.

Your Student Account:
- To cover your balance, you must receive full Financial Aid, pay the total amount, or set up a payment plan (offered Fall and Spring only), but do so by the deadline.
- Refunds and adjustments are based solely on the date of withdrawal, regardless of whether you attended class.
- If you don’t pay, you will be declared delinquent subject to the penalties imposed by UA Little Rock for financial delinquency.
- To set up a Deferred Payment Plan:
  1. From blackboard.ualr.edu Quick Links
  2. Select BOSS
  3. Select Personal Information tab, Select Student Services link; Student Accounts link; Payment Plans; and “Click here to enroll in a payment plan.”

Records and Registration: FAQs

Q: Where can I see the Academic Calendar?

A: You can view the calendar at ualr.edu/records/calendar. Once you’re there, you can see the start and end dates for terms, as well as important semester dates — even the schedule for final exams! Check out the calendar if you have any questions about deadlines.

Q: Where do I find the form for my records request?

A: You can find all of our forms at ualr.edu/records/forms, as well as instructions for how to use them. This page includes almost all of our common requests, including:

- Transcript requests
- Name changes
- Address changes
- Enrollment verification
- Dropping a class
- Requesting a duplicate diploma

Q: Is there a hold that can keep me from dropping classes? Why can’t I drop a course?

A: There are no holds that can keep you from dropping classes. Once late registration is over for the term, you may notice that you are no longer allowed to adjust your schedule — this is normal.

You’ll need to fill out a drop/withdrawal form, which is located on the Forms page we talked about in the second question. You can send it to the email or fax listed on the form — just make sure it’s signed!

Q: I don’t see my question here. How can I get it answered?

A: You may contact us by using one of the following:

Phone: (501) 569-3110
Email: records@ualr.edu
Fax: (501) 569-8168

My Success at UA Little Rock

7 Tips from the Trojan Academic Advising and Support Center (TAASC) and the Online Campus

After you’ve completed your Online Campus and Blackboard student orientations, there are several ways you can help ensure success in your online courses at UA Little Rock.

1. Take a First Year Colloquium (FYC) course during your first year at UA Little Rock. The FYC
   - is a graduation requirement and is required for all entering, first-time, full-time freshman students (including students with concurrent credit earned in high school), and entering full-time freshman transfers with fewer than 12 credit hours;
   - builds on what you learn during Student Orientation;
   - introduces tools to navigate UA Little Rock, builds a foundation for college success
   - teaches you how to navigate campus, how to use campus resources, how to study and manage time, and how to figure out life/school/work balance and so much more;
   - is graded as A, B, C, or NC only and counts towards your Grade Point Average. If a grade of “NC” or no credit received, you must retake the course; and
   - has special sections for some majors, in which major experts teach the section (see Page 7).

2. Use Services For You (ualr.at/studenthelp): This site showcases campus services such as tutoring and the food pantry as well as off-campus social services. Additional student resources are listed in the Online Campus Student Orientation in Blackboard.

3. Stay Connected to UA Little Rock
   - Email - Email - Check your ualr.edu e-mail daily; it is UA Little Rock's official means of communication.
   - Academic Calendar - Visit ualr.edu/records/calendar for important dates and deadlines.
   - Classmates - Connect and exchange contact info with other students in each of your classes. This action will assist you to join study groups, clarify info, or catch up after missing a class.

4. Get to Know Your Faculty: Believe it or not, faculty are real people, interesting people, who want to get to know you. They can help you get connected and assist you to acclimate to college culture; help you enter your field/career; write a letter of reference; or know of a job, internship, or research opportunity for you. It is important you build rapport with your professors early in the semester before you actually need help. Here is how:
   - Visit professor during office hours - virtual office hours usually on the syllabus
   - Prepare questions beforehand - go over notes, readings, and lectures, to create questions
   - Introduce yourself - first and last name, “I am in your ____ class”
   - Address as “Professor ____,” unless already provided previous instructions
   - Respect instructor’s time - stick to the agreed upon time
   - Be professional - use appropriate “netiquette” in your online courses and communication (detailed in the “Student Success” unit of your Online Campus Student Orientation in Blackboard)
   - Accept constructive criticism without taking it personally or complaining

5. Attend Class: Class attendance is the best predictor of success in a course. And you may have a lot of money invested in your tuition. It’s important to attend class regularly because
   - the material on your test comes from events that take place in class;
   - you participate in class activities, which are part of your grade, and these help you apply concepts learned from class lectures and reading assignments;
   - your classmates will have the same questions as you, which enables you to learn from them and enables all of you to ask your instructor about topics you all find difficult;
   - you can learn from the expert, the professor, who provides extra insight and perspective on the material being studied; and
   - the professor can get to know you, become aware of any help or support you might need, which in turn, makes you feel more comfortable to approach the professor outside of class.

6. Manage Your Time: Faculty give you the raw materials for understanding a subject. You are to take those materials, combine them, and teach yourself ahead of class activities. Complete the following to get a big picture of your time for the semester.
   - Get a calendar that covers the entire academic year.
   - Enter into the calendar each of your classes—2 hours of study time for each 1 that you spend on class activities—for the entire semester.
   - For each of your classes, review the syllabus, and write on the calendar each test, paper, project, assignment, and/or anything that is due or required by the faculty.

7. Visit your Academic Advisor Regularly: Contact your advisor early and often to get professional advice on how to reach your academic goals and explore careers. Your advisor can guide you to campus resources, share important deadlines, familiarize you with university policies and procedures, and share campus events and organizations that could benefit you.
