Responses are below in RED

General

Do I need to register on your site or just fill out the provided documents and email them?

No, you are not required to register online to participate in bids. We are still working from hardcopy submissions. See the solicitation Page 1 "Delivery of Response Documents" section for submission delivery instructions.

Section 2

Line 20 – Glass-E is for legacy consoles, are there legacy consoles being used in this system that aren't on the bid? Yes, we have two legacy consoles that will be used in the production room while the new consoles will be in the main studios.
