Catalog Description:
Introduction to the discipline of public administration covers historical development of public administration, the relationship between politics and administration, conflicting public values, defining the public interest and the appropriate level of administrative discretion, as well as professionalism, the ASPA Code of Ethics, career planning for public service, and major sources of information for professional research. Students should enroll in The Profession of Public Administration course in the first semester they are in the MPA program.

Required Text and Resources

- James Svara, The Ethics Primer, 2nd ed

- Other required readings will be provided by instructor or on the course site.
Course Overview:

The purpose of the Legal and Institutional Foundations of Public Administration course is to describe and define the setting of American public administration and to illustrate the effects of that setting on the administrative practices of American government. The course will cover the economic, political, and social dynamics within the field of public administration as well as the management challenges related to human resources, finances, program development, evaluation, technology, and strategic planning. In addition, this introduction to public administration will consider public service as a personal and professional commitment when considering ethics and values unique to the sector. We will pay particular attention to the political context of contemporary public administration, the role of public administration in the policy process, the legal (constitutional) basis for public administration, and the accountability and ethical behavior in democratic administration. Rather than focusing on the internal workings of government organizations, this seminar will concentrate on the public – the individuals, groups, and organizations that government ‘serve’ – and how they interact with governmental organizations and agencies. There will be an emphasis on an understanding of these interactions for the purpose of making government effective.

Objectives:

- Study the development of the public sector
- Explore the traditional and contemporary administrative processes
- Understand the unique management strategies of public administration
- Demonstrate and understanding of various actors and their roles in the contemporary policy process

University Grading Policies:
http://ualr.edu/policy/home/student/grades-and-grading-grad/

* Attendance and Participation are essential for this course. More than 2 unexcused absences result in forfeiture of total attendance and participation points.
General Policies:

• Skills: Students are expected to possess basic computer skills. If you are not comfortable in a technology environment, you must meet with me ASAP.

• Assignment Submission: Assignments MUST be submitted by the assigned time.

• Late Work: I expect assignments to be handed in on time. When this is not possible, you must make arrangements with me prior to the due date. Make Up work will only be given in the case of a legitimate, documented emergency.

• Classroom Etiquette: I ask that you attend class on time and ready to participate. Entering the class more than a few minutes late can be very distracting and should be avoided whenever possible. Please refrain from talking, reading outside materials, and eating meals in class. You are not available to take phone calls or text messages during this class. There will usually be an intermission where phone usage is permitted.

• Plagiarism Policy Anyone caught plagiarizing will be disciplined according the UALR Student Handbook regulations. A slideshow on academic integrity (of which plagiarism is a part) is available at http://www.ualr.edu/copyright/articles/?ID=4

• Students with Disabilities: It is the policy and practice of the University of Arkansas at Little Rock to create inclusive learning environments consistent with federal and state law. If you have a documented disability (or need to have a disability documented), and need an accommodation, please contact me privately as soon as possible, so that we can discuss with the Disability Resource Center (DRC) how to meet your specific needs and the requirements of the course. The DRC offers resources and coordinates reasonable accommodations for students with disabilities. Reasonable accommodations are established through an interactive process among you, your instructor(s) and the DRC. Thus, if you have a disability, please contact me and/or the DRC, at 501-569-3143 (V/TTY) or 501-683-7629 (VP). For more information, please visit the DRC website at www.ualr.edu/disability.

Students with Disabilities:

UALR Non-Discrimination Policy:

- UALR adheres to a policy that enables all individuals, regardless of race, color, gender, national origin, age, sexual orientation, veteran’s status, or disability to work and study in an environment unfeathered by discriminatory behavior or acts. Harassment of an individual or group will not be condoned and any person – student, faculty, or staff member – who violates this policy will be subject to disciplinary action.

Any person who believes they have been discriminated against should contact the Human Resources Office to obtain assistance and information concerning the filing of complaints, (501) 569-3180.

Harassment which is considered discriminatory includes actions or conduct (verbal, graphic, gestural, or written) directed against any person or group with the intent to demean or create a hostile or threatening environment.

It is not the intent of this policy to infringe upon or limit educational, scholarly, or artistic expression. At the same time the University prohibits discriminatory practices, it promotes equal opportunity through affirmative action. Nondiscriminatory affirmative action equal opportunity policies apply to: recruitment, hiring, job classification and placement, work conditions, promotional opportunities, demotions/transfers, terminations, training, compensation, choice of contractors and suppliers of goods and services, educational opportunities, disciplinary action, recreational and social activities, use of facilities, housing, and University sponsored programs.

A Note on Incompletes:

- Be aware that I will only grant Incompletes to students who a) have completed (and passed!) a majority of the required work b) have legitimate reasons for requesting an extension, and c) have arranged a reasonable plan for completion of the required work.

Syllabus Changes:

- Although every effort has been made to present accurate, complete information, this syllabus is subject to change. If a change is necessary, the instructor will notify the class in advance.
